ANOTHER BODY OF ILL FATED POLAR EXPEDITION FOUND

PARTY OF JOURNALISTS ON SEALING VESSEL VISIT ANDREE'S CAMP

STOCKROLM, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The frozen northern wastes of White Island, or Hvitvoen, have given up another body, presumably that of the third member of the Andree balloon expedition of 1897.

A party of journalists aboard the sealing vessel Isbojern,, excited at the discoveries of the crew of the Bratvaag on the island and hurrying there themselves, managed to alnd there Saturday and seek out relics of the ill-fated expedition which Dr. Gunnar Horn and his associates left behind.

The skeleton found was presumed to be that of Knut Frankel, third member of the Andree group, who, it generally had been believed, died en route to White Island from the spot when the balloon, in which they wished to cross the North Pole, came down. The crew of the Bratvaag found only two bodies. A group of bones they believed to be the remains of the third man turned out to be a polar bear's bones.

In addition to the third skeleton the Isbjoern party found a number of other things left by the Andree expedition of 33 years ago, including scientific instruments, weapons, pieces of the basket below the Andree balloon and Frankel's notebooks. They said the camp was in excellent order. They believed the explorers died from a sudden catastrophe, such as a blizard.

GIRL DIES FROM POISON.

HOGGS, N. M., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Viola Fletcher died here last night from the effects of poison. Several notes were found. Relatives were notified and a sister was expected today from Houston.

Two Killed In Airplane Crash North Dakota

NOME, N. D., Sept. 8.—(AP)—John Fritz, St. Paul, and George J. Ranes, Lisbon, N. D., were killed today when their airplane crashed and burned near here. The bodies were charred beyond recognition, but identity was established through a key ring which Ranes wore.

NOME, S. D., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Two unidentified men were killed when their airplane crashed and burned three miles east of here early today. So completely did flames consume the wreckage and the bodies that all attempts at immediate identification failed.

The craft, a small biplane, was seen flying northwest from Enderlin by Martin Peterson, farmer, near here, and about a mile from his place was noticed to dive very sharply to the ground. Peterson drove to the spot as soon as he saw smoke, but the plane was a mass of flames when he arrived.

Dr. S. A. Nesse, Nome, said that one of the men was evidently instantly killed while the other apparently was burned before he could extricate himself from the wreckage.

The wreckage was too hot today to attempt location of department of commerce number plates.

TEN STATES WILL CHOOSE OFFICIALS IN COMING WEEK

MAINE STAGES ONLY INTER-PARTY BATTLE UNTIL NOVEMBER ELECTIONS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Ten states will choose party candidates for the senate, house or state offices this week, led by the election today in Maine, the only inter-party contest before November.

Maine voters choose for Senator between Wallace H. White, former republican representative, and Frank H. Haskell, the democratic choice. After this week only three states will have to select party nominees, Massachusetts, New York and Wisconsin holding primaries on September 16.

Maryland has no senatorial election this year and in the primaries today the candidates for governor are unopposed. Albert C. C. Ritchie is to obtain the Democratic nomination to succeed himself while Mayor William F. Boening of Baltimore receives the republican right to oppose him.

In South Carolina Tuesday a Democratic run-off primary is to decide between Senator Cole L. Blease and James F. Byrnes who opposed him unsuccessfully in 1924, and between Irba C. Blackwood and Olin D. Johnston, both of Spartanburg, for the governorship.

Long Opposes Ransdell

On the same day Louisiana democrats will settle the contest between the veteran Senator Ransdell and Governor Huey P. Long, who, only six years old when his opponent entered congress, is seeking to oust him from the Washington post.

A successor to Senator Lawrence C. Phipps is to be chosen Tuesday by Colorado republicans. William V. Hodges, bearing the support of the retiring Phipps, is opposed by George H. Shaw.

At the same time in Michigan Senator James Couzens will be opposed by former Governor Chase S. Osborn, befriended by the anti-Saloon league of his state. The democrat Thomas E. A. Weadock, is unopposed to meet the winer of the election in November.

Neither Senator Keyes nor Representative Flectcher Hale and Edward H. Watson are opposed in New Hampshire for the republican re-nomination but democrats will choose between Albert W. Noone and Amos N. Bladin to oppose Keyes in the election.

Many State Contests.

No senate contests occur in the remainder of Tuesday's primaries which are in Vermont, Arizona and Washington. Republicans of Vermont have three candidates for governor, W. Arthur Simpson, Stanley C. Wilson and John W. Gordon.

In Arizona Governor John C. Phillips, republican, is up for re-election, with four democrats seeking the right to oppose him. Representative Lewis W. Douglas, is unopposed for the democratic re-nomination. Three of Washington's

GOVERNOR LONG MUST APPEAR IN FEDERAL COURT

CLASHES WITH NEWSPAPER REPORTER; NEWSPAPERS ARE GUARDED

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8.—(AP)—On the eve of his entrance into the democratic primary tomorrow as a candidate for the United States senate against Senator Joseph E. Ransdell, Governor Huey P. Long, was brouht into federal court here today and questioned concerning the whereabouts of Samuel Irby and James Terrell, who were seized and secluded as they planned to file suits against the governor in Shreveport.

With Judge Wayne G. Borah presiding and Assistant Attorney General E. R. Schowalter questioning, Governor Long said he did not know where Irby was but understood he was in Jefferson parish, outside of New Orleans. He testified that he had not seen Terrell in over a year and did not know where he was.

Before going to court in answer to a subpoena, the governor engaged in a fist fight with William G. Wiegand, reporter of the New Orleans Item, who had gone on assignment to cover service of the subpoena by a United States deputy marshal.

In a statement the reporter said he struck the governor in the mouth with his right first and cracked his knuckle on the governor's teeth after the governor had called him a vile name twice while two bodyguards were holding his arms. He broke the guards hold and struck thet governor and the guards grabbed him again. With two armed men on either side of him but with himself free, the reporter said the governor struck him on the cheek. Later each apologized to the other.

Long's Version Differs.

Asked about the encounter, Governor Long said " a man came into my room and impersonated himself as a federal officer and I asked him to get out and he wouldn't do it."

"Were any blows passed?" he was asked.

The governor lifted his right arm and said:

"There was a little tussle.'

Mr. Weigand denied pretending

BELIEVE BUTTE TO ACCEPT PLACE ON REPUBLICAN TICKET

G. O. P. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE AFTER STRONG PLANKS FOR PLATFORM

By PAUL BOLTON
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 8—(AP)—The probability that Dr. George C. Butte of Austin, assistant U. S. attorney general at Washington, would accept the Republican nomination for governor grew today as Republicans fro mall parts of Texas gathered here for their state convention tomorrow.

Dr. Butte will not attend the convention but the opinion was unanimour that he would accept the nomination accorded him in the Republican primary, even though to do so may entail resignation from his Washington position.

R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman for Texas, expressed the opinion that Butte would make the best candidate the Republicans could offer, both because of his large vote against Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson in 1924, and because of his excellent personal reputation over the state.

The state executive committee was scheduled to meet today to outline the convention's work. Twelve hundred delegates were expected.

Refuses Cater to Democrats.

Whether or not Butte accepts the nomination, the Republicans will make a militant fight against Ross S. Sterling, Democratic nominee for governor, and other nominees of the party, Creager declared.

He also made the satement that no faction of the Democratic party would be catered to by he Republican platform.

"We'll turn down no votes," he said, "from Democrats who like our candidates and our platform, but we assuredly have not 'traded' with any faction, nor do we intend to trade"

This statement was literally interpreted as a denial that the Republicans would openly seek the support of the Ferguson vote. Since Creager's comment followed a comparison of the proposed Re-

SUNBEAM STRIKES AUTO AT CROSSING NEAR CORSICANA

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Haley and baby, Henry Ellis, had a narrow escape from death Sunday afternoon when the northbound Sunbeam on the Southern Pacific lines struck their automobile at the section house crossing about two miles north of Corsicana.

The automobile engine stalled as Mrs. Haley drove upon the railroad tracks and all efforts to get the car off the tracks before it was struck by the train were futile. Mr. and Mrs. Haley saw the train coming in time to get out before the car was struck by the train.

The car was demolished.

PRISONER PUT OUT JAIL FOR DISTURBING INMATES: EVERYTHING PLEASANT AGAIN

EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Now that Engene Moore has been put out of jail for disturbing the peace of the prisoners, everything is hotsy-totsy again.

Eugene plays the harmonica, which explains everything. He can pipe a high note like nobody's business. He can run up and down the scale real nice. He can rip fourth a march, linger over a waltz or get hot and bothered over the St. Louis Blues with equal facility and eclat. He's pretty good.

But a jail is no place to play a harmonica, although many people will say that a jail is a great place for a harmonica player.

When the law tossed Eugene in jail yesterday for having no visible means of support, he settide him self on the edge of his cell cot, wiped off the harmonica lovingly, and cut loose.

His first number was the sextette from Lucia, and he took all six parts. The finish was greeted with mutterings. He then let go with a medley of popular airs. The mutterings became more pronounced. Without stopping, veered into one of the stein songs—whether the one from Maine or the one from Heidelberg, no one seemed to know. The prisoners became rebellious. Even the policemen heard it and couldn't sleep.

An officer went into the dungeon and told Eugene to cut it out. Eugene paid no attention. He was too intent on bringing out the glories of the sweet and dulcet meldoies of Casey Jones.

"You'll either have to stop," said Sergeant Ben Kennedy, "or get out of here. You're disturbing the peace.'

Eugene kept right on playing. There was nothing left to do so they put him out.

And as he walked forth, a free man, there came back from his beloved harmonica the tune of that almost forgotten selection, "Good By, Boys, I'm Through."

Miller was alone when the attack occurred and was returning home from a visit to a girl, who lived a short distance away. He and the girl had spent the evening in Temple.

The murderers are believed to have hopped on the running board of the car as he slowed down to enter the side road. He was shot in the right side of the head and tracks of the automobie indicated he was driving the machine when shot.

Officers found two $1 bills in his watch pocket. No other valuables were found, indicating robbery as the motive.

AIRPLANES ARE USED TO REACH HURRICANE AREA

SWOLLEN STREAMS IMPEDE RELIEF; DISEASE THREATENS SANTO DOMINGO

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The Red Cross arranged today to send 5,000 pounds of surgical dressings, antitoxin and anaesthetics to Santo Domingo by airplane.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The navy department announced today that a destroyer would be sent to Santo Domingo with medical and relief supplies to aid hurricane victims.

SANTO DOMINGO, Sept. .—(AP)—Santo Domingo, devastated by a hurricane last Wednesday which took more than 4,000 lives, today feared that outbreaks of disease would cause a scourge as bad as the storm itself.

Insufficient medical supplies, unclean streets, and the lack of food contributed to a condition which worried naive and visiting physicians. Cremation of the dead continued.

Attitude of the physicians probably was best indicated in that all are taking every prophllactic injection possible. With the hospital survey finished more than 1,000 storm victims already have been found to have gangrene or other infections.

At one camp yesterday more than 1,300 persons took anti-toxin innoculations for typhoid. Medical supplies were sent from San Jaun and Havana.

The task of cleaning the city's streets or debris is proving almost impossible. There is not an automobile or truck or wagon in the country which was not damaged.

One of the principal needs is good drinking water. Work has been started on re-establishing the power house, and reconstruction of the water line.

Rains Impede Relief.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Heavy rains lasting more than 24 hours have seriously swollen the Ozama river and made travel through the hurricane zone in the interior of Santo Domingo all but impossible today. The Ozama's flow has increased to 15 miles an hour, preventing boats from entering its mouth.

Airplanes today formed virtually the only mode of travel into the area where last week about 4,000 persons lost their lives and far more than that number received injuries. Relief work went forward today as energetically as possible under such circumstances.

The population pathetically watched the arrival of each plane at the Santo Domingo field, hailing each has angels of mercy alighting from the sky amid a scene of great misery.

NEGRO CHARGED IN DEATH OFFICER IS RIDDLED IN CELL

ONE KILLED AND SEVERAL WOUNDED AFTER ATTEMPT ARREST TWO NEGROES

DARIEN, Ga., Sept. 8.—(AP)—In the face of machine guns mounted in the streets, an armed band of men forced its way into the McIntosh county jail today and lynched George Grant, 40, negro accused of killing one officer and wounding three others persons in an early morning gun battle.

The men disregarded the pleas of Col. Roy Neal, commanding the Savannah unit of the National Guard and holding county officers outside the jail at bay with shot guns, crashed into the building.

Grant was shot to death in his cell while Col. Neal pleaded with the me to let this negro live until we catch the other one.

The other negro who took part in the gun battle was surrounded in a nearby marshland by several hundred men and his capture was expected momentarily.

Early this morning R. Anderson, a dairyman, was wounded as he sought to arrest two negroes who aroused his suspicions as they approached a bank. A posse trailed them into the swamp near the city and Robert Freenman, chief of Lynn countl police, was killed and the others were wounded as the negroes opened fire on their pursuers.

Others in the posse continued the search and arrested Grant some time later.

to be an officer and said he had met the governor many times before and felt sure the governor knew him all the time.

The governor appeared in court with a guard of state highway policemen. As he and his party entered the building, press photographers sought to take pictures but the guards charged upon them and held their cameras.

Taking the stand the governor denied making part of a radio speech quoted in the New Orleans newspapers. He said Sheriff Clancy, of Jefferson parish, told him he though he ought to go and arrest Irby and Terrell in Shreveport.

"Did you say in your radio speech that the men were held by a deputy sheriff in Jefferson parish?" asked the assistant attorney general.

"I did not,' replied the governor

Asked about a telegram sent to Terrell's mother, in Eldorado, Ark., signed Jimmie Terrell and saying he was all right, the governor said:

"A deputy named Sardiss gave the telegram to me in the handwriting of Terrell on note paper. I kept the original and copied the telegram and gave it to Sardiss to send it to his mother."

The governor said the only time Irby had been to his rooms in the Roosevelt hotel was last night when he came to tell him about the suit and said he wanted to protect the governor's character.

Irby is Friend.

Irby, the governor testified, sand he wanted to stay in the governor's room as he was afraid he would be killed if he was arrested by the New Orleans police.

"Irby told me he had found $2500 under his pillow in the hotel room at Shreveport.

"I called the reporters to see Irby walk out of my rooms so they could see he was free and oad not been kidnapped,' added the governor.

The reporters who called last night reported they were introduced to a man with his hat drawn down over his eyes as Samuel Irby. As soon as they got there, he left with an armed state policeman, who drew a pistol in a freight elevator and drove a reporter back. Later in the night the governor said over radio a that Irby had crossed the line safely into Jefferson parish.

A man who said he was Irby read a statement over the radio last night in which he said he had not been kidnapped and that "Governor Long was the best friend he had in the world.'

Sheriff Frank Clancy of Jefferson Parish who followed Governor Long on the stand, said he did not have Irby and Terrell in custody but that he believed he knew where they were. The federal court then issued subpoenas against Irby and Terrell demanding their appearance in court at 3 p. m., today when the federal hearing would be resumed.

Deputy marshals were sent out immediately to Jefferson parish to serve the papers on the two men. Sheriff Clancy said he had the men in custody only two hours after their arrival from Shreveport where he served summonds on them.

A well defined report was current in the city that the state militia would be called out tomorrow morning to stand guard over polling booths but Lieut. Col. Roy, of the general staff, said he had not heard of any order.

Adjutant General Fleming could not be located. Meantime policemen stood guard over the three newspaper plants in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Governor Huey P. Long was served with a subpoena to appear in federal district court today to explain why he and his associates should not produce in open court Samuel Irby and James Terrell, the two men that have been held in seclusion since Thursday as they were planning to file suit against the governor.

Service was made by Deputy Sheriff Marshal Rerbert Patterson in the governor's apartment at the Rosevelt hotel. "Ah! Ha!" said the governor as he read the subpeona. "This will interfere with my speeches. All right, I'll be there."

Developments around Irby and Terrell have created excitement in New Orleans as Governor Long goes into the democratic primary election tomorrow seeking the United States senatorial nomination against Senator Joseph E. Ransdell.

Policemen were assigned to each newspaper plant in the city last night and they were still on duty today. They said they had been ordered to guard the newspapers by the chief of police. The newspapers have conducted an intense campaign against the governor's candidacy and in the few days before election they carried front page editorials, cartoons and outspoken news items against him.

Strikes Long's Nose.

Governor Long was struck on the nose today by William G. Giegand, a reporter of the New Orleans Item, after the reporter said the governor had called him a profane name.

The reporter had gone into the governor's quarters just ahead of the deputy United States marshal and had been grabbed by bodyguards of the governor.

Wiegand said while he was being held, the governor called him a vile name. Finally he broke away from the guards and struck the governor. The governor struck him twice in the face, as guards grabbed him again.

The governor threatened to have the reporter arrested for impersonating an officer but Robert S. Maestri, commissioner of conservation, dissuaded the governor. Gov. Long then apologized to Mr. Wiegand for calling him the name and Mr. Weigant apologized for striking the governor.

Missing Witness is Presented on Radio

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8—(AP)—Governor Huey P. Long last night dramatically whisked into his hotel suite and placed before a radio microphone a man who claimed to be Sam Irby, missing after he announced a week ago his intention of filing a slander suit against Long who opposed Senator Joseph E. Ransdell in tomorrow's primary.

The man, introducted to radio listeners by Governor Long, read a prepared statement in which he said he was not kidnapped from a Shreveport hotel early Thursday but skipped away with a requested guard of state policemen after he found $2500 under his pillow. He said he did not know why the money was placed there.

Newspapersmen, called to the governor's suite, were introduced to the man by the governor, but they said they did not know whether he was Irby because he wore a slouch hat and bowed his head. They said the man was rushed out into a freight elevator and then speed from the hotel in an automobile awaiting at a side entrance.

One reporter said he attempted to follow the man and his escort into the elevator but was jerked out and his coat ripped. He said one of the escort drew a pistol and ordered the elevtor opeartor to descend, at the same time slamming the door shut himself.

Another Mystery Unsolved.

Mystery still surrounded the disappearnce of James Terrell, divorced husband of the governor's private secretary who was with Irby at Shreveport and dropped from sight the same night.

A federal court writ of habeas returnable today demanded that the sheriff of Jefferson parish release Irby and Terrell, although the radio statement last night said that Irby had been released several days ago after being subpoenaed as a witness in a case in that parish. A petition for the writ by Assistant Attorney General E. R. Schowalter accused Governor Long and state officers of conspiring to kndnap Irby and Terrell.

Irby, former chief chemist, recently was a witness in a secret investigation of the state highway department.

Two automobiles, one containing several men who witnesses said wore national guard uniforms appeared at the Irby residence last night but departed upon learning no one was at home. Mrs. Irby later returned and in response to inquiries, persons at the home said they could not account for the appearance of the cars.

five representatives have opposition for renomination. Representatives Johnson and Hadley, republicans have four opponents each, while Representative Miller, republican, is opposed by a wet, Relph H. A. Horr.

Wednesday's only primary will be in Georgia where Senator William J. Harris is opposed for democratic renomination by former Governor John M. Slaton. Five candidates seek the governorship while only three representatives have opposition.

Maine Electing Four Congressmen

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Maine's election today involved contests for a United States senator to succeed Arthur R. Gould, Presque Isle, who is retiring; four congressmen, a governor, and lesser state and county offices.

Representative Wallase H. White of Lewiston, seeks the United States senatorship on the republican ticket. Farnk H. Haskell, Portland attorney, opposes him. The seat in congress vacated by White after 11 years is sought by Doland B. Partridge, Norway republican, and Col. Albert Belivau, of Rumford.

Edward C. Moran, Rockland, democrat, is running against Governor William Tudor Gardner, republican, who seeks a second term.

Oposing John E. Nelson of Augusta; Donald F. Snow of Bangor and Carroll L. Beedy of Portland, republican incumbents in the other congressional districts are Leon D. Lamond of Eastport; Clinton C. Stevens of Bangor and Thomas F. Lock of Biddeford.

Little Interest in Maryland Election

BALTIMORE, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Four of the six Maryland members of congress and the two state tickets, headed by Governor Albert C. Ritchie, democrat, and William F. Broening, mayor of Baltimore, republican, were unopposed in today's primaries, in which votes were cast for nomintes for congress, the legislature and local office.

The dearth of contents was reflected by apparent apathy and indications were the vote would be unusually light. Prohibition, unemployment and the drought and the national administration were mentioned as issues in the congressional races.

In the first district, Representative T. Alan Goldsborough, democratic incumbent was unopposed for renomination and the republican nomination was sought by A. Stengle Marine and Jerome D. Jefferson.

Linwood L. Clark, republican, was unopposed for renomination in the second district and Herbert L. Grymes, William P. Cole and Daniel B. Chambers campaigned for the democratic endorsement.

In the third district, which is within Baltimore, Representative Vincent L. Palmisano, democrat, had four opponents, but John Phillip Hill was without opposition for the republican nomination. Hill, long a wet leader in congress, was defeated in 1928 by Palmisano.

The fourth district was without a contest, neither the veteran, Representative J. Charles Linthicum, democrat, nor W. O. Atwood, republican, having opponents.

For the democratic nomination in the fifth, Representative Stephen W. Gambrill was oppised by Dr. John William Kelmm, but A. Kingsley Love had no contest for the republican nomination.

Prohibition came in for considerable discussion in the sixth district in western Maryland, where David J. Lewis, former congressman and former member of the tariff commission, was opposed by Full Barnard, Jr., for the right to oppose the incumbent, Fdererick W. Zihlman, republican, in November.

Blame United States Argentine Disorder

ROME, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The fascist newspaper "Il Tevere," discussing the Argentine revolution today, blamed the disorder on the United States, and said Latin America should be reorganized "undisturbed by the famous Monroe doctrine."

The newspaper expressed doubt whether the Latin American republics, "hardly emerged from a government of colonial or feudal type," had shown wisdom in modelling their state administration on that of the United States.

HIGH TEMPERATURE CAUSED LOCATION OF TOWNSITE MOVED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—A 115-degree temperatlure at the site first chosen for the so-far-nameless town which will house Boulder dam workers led the interior department today to change the location.

The department selected a new site on the Nevada side of the Colorado river "there miles further back at the top of the ridge and at an elevation of 1,400 feet."

A temperature 13 degrees lower has been found at the higher site, considered of sufficient advantage to "warrant the acception of the town site at the top of the ridge."

LEAGUE COUNCIL SETTLE PROBLEM BRITISH MANDATE

DELICATE SITUATION HAD ARISEN OVER CRITICISMS MANDATORY POWER

GENEVA, Sept. 8—(AP)— The Council of the League of Nations announced today the amicable settlement of the delicate situation which had arisen as a result of the Mandates Commission's recent frank criticisms of British administration in Palestine.

The situation was settled "with peace and honor for all," according to a statement made at the opening session of the Council.

The Mandates Commission, in making its recent report on Palestine, in which were incorporated criticisms of the British administration, was acting in its proper function, the League Council was told by its mandates reporter, Mr. Procope, of Finland.

Procope emphasized, however, the tremendous difficulties faced by the mandatory power in attempting to facilitate the establishment of a Jewish national home planned and at the same time encourage the growth of political institutions for the welfore of the Arabs.

This conciliation of the situation which had been regarded in some quarters as a break between Britain as the mandatory power and the commission which supervises for the League the management of mandatories, was hailed as testimony to the spirit of cooperation and "give and take" which the League has been working to develop in international relations.

Report Made Public

The reporter's finding, after discussing the complexity of the Palestine situation, recommended to the council "to request the British government to adopt such measures as it thinks necessary to give effect to the recommendations and conclusions therein and take the action suggested by the commission on the annual report for 1929."

The Persian representative on the council, spokesman of a Moslem people, expressed full confidence in the mandatory power and urged that the interest of the Arabs in Palestine be not neglected.

Arthur Henderson, for the commisisoner in Palestine, in a statement which he made public after the reading of the procope report, said his government did not wish to add much to its comments already published. He said he recognized ed the rights of the mandates commission to criticize.

Marinkovitch, of Jugoslavia, supplemented the Persian declaration with the statement thato ne-tenth of the population of his country was Moslem. He expressed the belief that the rights of all people in Palestine could be protecttd without injury to any, but at the same time asked that the rights of Jews be safeguarded.

Woman Dangles 9000 Feet in Air But Jumps Again

TORONTO, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Undaunted by the experience of dangling helplessly from the wing of an airplane 9000 feet in the air when her parachute fouled Miss Elsia Storrow made a second leap and today claimed the Canadian women's jump record.

The first time she went up and leaped yesterday her parachute caught on the wing of the plane. Pilot William Van Sickle saw her plight and Perry McGovern the observer, crawled out on the wing of the plane and rescued her.

After landing Miss Storrow decided to make another attempt. This time she leaped at 5000 feet. This jump exceeded the women's Canadian parachute record by several hundred feet but was unofficial.

INEXPENSIVE POWER FROM GULF STREAM IS PLAN SCIENTIST

MATANZAS, Cuba., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Professor Georges Claude, the French scientist, expected today to proceed at once with development of his scheme to produce inexpensive power from the gudf stream.

Elated at success, finally, of launching his 5000 foot, six foot diametter tube to draw coid water from the depths below the gulf stream, he expected little further difficulty to attach to his million dollar experiment in practical physics.

The tube, probably the most expensive part of the power project, was slipped into the water off this port Sunday, after two previous attempts had failed because, Professor Claude charged, of sabotage by interests opposed to idea.

A dozen tug boats, a government destroyer, two companies of troops, and squads of provincial police assisted in the gigantic task. The tugs lined the appartus to keep it from curving and breaking in the gulf stream until the two cables keeping it on the surface were cut and it slipped to the bottom of the ocean.

It is Professor Claude's scheme to draw cold water from the bottom, vaporize it with warm water from the gulf stream surface submitted to vacuum using the resulting steam to operate the turbine and in turn condensing the steam again to maintain the vacuum.

Need Work Shoes?

Ask For WOLVERINE Shell Horsehides

they stay soft and scuff-proof . . . . . they outwear all other work shoes

ALMOST every week a customer drops in to tell us how delighted he is with his Wolverine Work Shoes. Once we sell a man Wolverines, he never wants "anything else but." And there's a reason—several reasons, in fact.

FIRST—they wear longer, and thus save you money in the end. Wolverines are made of Shell Cordovan Horsehide — recognized by the tanners as the longest wearing leather. It's not at all unusual for Wolverines to last a whole year without repair—and two or three years' wear before they're discarded.

SECOND—they stay soft and comfortable in all weathers. The Wolverine tanners have developed a formula that makes Wolverines as soft as Buckskin. Then, too, they always look neat and dressy, for the uppers are scuff-proof, hard to rip, and almost impervious to acids.

All these "plus" features are yours at no higher prices than other good work shoes. Come in today and try a pair of Wolverines in your favorite style.

New York Market Down

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Cotton prices broke about $2 a bale on the New York Cotton Exchange today after publication of the government crop report, which indicated a much larger crop than had been anticipated.

There was heavy general selling, including Wall Street, commission houses and the South, and prices broke rapidly, despite the fact that the trade was a good buyer on the scale down.

Cotton Drops $2 Bale.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Prices for cotton on the local exchange dropped approximately $2 a bale following publication of the census bureau's crop figures showing an unexpectedly large crop estimate and ginnings. Immediately after resumption of trading following the customary suspension for reception of the figures, October contracts broke from 11.22 cents a pound to 10.80 cents a pound and December contracts from 11.38 to 11.01 or 37 to 43 points down.

The market ruled very active all morning. Prior to the issuance of the government report October advanced to 11.37 and December to 11.55, or 9 to 10 points above Saturday's close, due to last minute covering by shorts. After the bureau figure for the crop of 14,340,000 bales was issued prices immediately dropped 37 to 42 points from the pre-bureau figures. At the lowest of the morning October traded at 10.80 and December at 10.98, or 57 points below the highest of the morning. At mid-session the market was quieter and 1 to 2 points up from the lowest.

BIRTH OF VIRGIN CELEBRATED MONDAY BY ITALIAN TOWN

LORETO, Italy, Sept. 8.—(AP)—All day today through the main street of this picturesque litle town, poised on the heights with the green Adriatic below, passed a procession to the sanctuary of the "Holy House of Nazareth," also known as the "flying house," to celebrate the nativity of the Blessed Virgin. For over 800 years the great and the lowly, from kings and crusaders to beggars, have trod the road up to this shrine, bearing their gifts.

The procession today included a number of aviators, for "our lady of Loreto was proclaimed their protectress by the late Jope Benedict XV; American touring motorists and their families, and peasantsclad in the vivid costumes of the Abruzzi and the marches. Many came into town on foot, and priests, students, old men and women, grandmothers leading broods of grandchildren and mothers carrying their latest born in baskets balanced on their heads.

To the chant of Litanies they all wound up through the principal street into the piazzoo of the Madonna.

The "holy house of Nazareth,' according to legend, was the very one in which the Blessed Virgin was born and raised, where she received the visit of the annunciation, and where she resided after Christ's ascention. The apostles are supposed to have converted it into a church at a later date. When Nazareth was threatened by the Turks the legend has it that the house was borne miraculously through the air to a hill near Ccutari, where a number of cures effected on visitors attested its sanctity. Later, when thieves and pirates infested the region, during the period of the crusaders, angels, it is said, transported the house to the hill of Loreto and set it down among the laurel groves.

FARMER INDICTED FOR MURDER; MEAT VENDOR WAS VICTIM

DALLAS, Sept. 8.—(AP)—J. N. Hale, 50, farmer of Reinhart, was indicted today for murder in the slaying of Oscar Bell, 40, meat vendor of the same community, last Tuesday.

Hale, who was held without bond, surrendered shortly after the shooting. In a statement to District Attorney William McCraw the farmer said he had warned Bell to stay away from his home.

The grand jury also returned true bills for murder against four Mexicans, three of whom were in jail and the fourth still at large, in connection with the slaying of Constable J. T. Davis of Mesquite near that place on July 1. The officer was slain after he and a deputy had arrested four men they had found stripping a stolen automobile.

BELIEVE BUTTE TO ACCEPT PLACE ON REPUBLICAN TICKET

publican platform with the principles sponsored by James E. Ferguson when he announced that he and Mrs. Ferguson never expected to seek office again.

Plan Strong Platform.

"Naturally," he said, "we will pick the strongest planks against the democratic policy that we can find, and will be pleased, of course, if these planks find favor with democratic voters."

The proposed platform coincides in at least three particulars with that advanced by the Fergusons: emphatic denunciation of the proposed highway bond isue; advocation of repeal of the poll tax, and investigation into expenditures of money by state departments under the present administration.

Somewhat as a surprise came the information that the platform would probably contain no reference to expenditures made in the democratic primaries.

Speaking only his own views Creager declared he believed that to insert in the platform any such reference would be "small stuff".

Contests from county delegations promised to occupy most of the time of the executive committee meeting. Only two contests were disposed of this morning out of seven filed.

The question of the negro vote was brought up in a contest from Runnels county but was side tracked when the executive committee ruled that it had no jurisdiction over what occured in the primary. The contestants had contended that the election was illegal because negroes were allowed to vote although it was generally understood that it was to be a "white man's primary."

Harry Tom King, leader of the Ferguson forces in west Texas and democratic executive committeeman under Governors Hobby and Miriam A. Ferguson, said today he would stump west Texas in behalf of Butte if the democrats put into their platform support of the highway bond issue and removal of the penitentiary system from Huntsville.

VICTIM CHICAGO MOTORIST DIES: WAS DUMPED IN ALLEY BY DRIVER OF AUTOMOBILE

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Charlie Adams is dead.

He was getting along toward 60 years of age. He was a poor man, a fellow who had worked for modest wages, who lived normally, sanely and happily. That is, up to last Thanksgiving. Then he was struck by a motorist.

Witnesses ran to his aid as he lay in the street. The driver of the car stopped and ran back to where Charlie lay groaning. He picked him up and started away.

"He's taking him to the hospital," said the people who had seen the accident. "That was the right thing for him to do. Maybe by getting to the hospital quickly the old man can be patched up."

But it wasn't to a hospital the motorist took Charlie Adams last Thanksgiving day. It was to an alley, a dark, dirty alley. And he dumped Charlie out on the bricks. And he drove away, leaving him there, in the alley, with broken legs, and a fractured skull.

Hours later he was found. He was paralyzed. Time passed. Charlie Adams lost his mind. Went carzy. Yesterday he died.

Police would like to get their hands on the man who—last Thnksgiving day—ran down Charlie Adams and dumped him in an alley—with broken legs—and fractured skull—helpless, paralyzed—and dying.

By PAUL MOORE

HUBBARD, Sept. 5.—The annual Hubbard community fair got under way here Thursday with a large entry in the farm products exhibit especially in the poultry and canned goods departments. Judging of the livestock and other entries will be made Friday and the fair will be closed Saturday night.

In the livestock division, only cattle and sheep were exhibited. Jerseys and Herefords constituted the cattle entries, and several bunches of sheep were shown. No horses, mules, goats or other livestock were shown.

In the poultry division, turkeys and chickens were noted.

The main portion of the fair was housed in the tabernacle with the farm products about the outside of the enclosure while the merchants exhibited were in the middle of the house. Scores of farm exhibits were shown, including the various small grains, corn, oats, maize, peas, beans, etc. A number of school exhibits were also noted.

A carnival company is furnishing a majority of the entertainment features of the fair this year.

There are a number of implement and automobile exhibits.

There May be Poison in YOUR Bowels!

STEP out tomorrow morning with the fresh buoyancy and briskness that comes from a clean intestinal tract. Syrup Pepsin—a doctor's prescription for the bowels—will help you do this. This compound of fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other pure ingredients will clean you out thoroughly—without griping, sickening or discomfort.

Poisons absorbed into the system form souring waste in the bowels, cause that dull, headachy, sluggish, bilious condition; coat the tongue; foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve-force. A little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The difference it will make in your feelings over night will prove its merit to you.

Dr. Caldwell studied bowel troubles for forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescription just what men, women, old people and children need to make their bowels help themselves. Its natural, mild, thorough action and its pleasant taste commend it to everyone. That's why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is the most popular laxative drugstores sell.

DALLAS MAN FALLS TO DEATH FOLLOWING FIGHT HOTEL ROOM

DALLAS, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Several persons, including three women, were held in jail for investigation today in connection with the death of Rex (Wingy) Brooks, 31, one-armed rent car driver, who fell to the pavement last night from the window of a sixth floor room in a downtown hotel. His skull was fractured and many bones in his body were broken.

His fall followed a fight which occurred in the room from which he fell, officers were told. City detectives found the room spattered with blood and in great disorder.

J. W. Swecker, 34, formerly of Westville, Va., and James H. Womble, 42, of Dallas, were removed from the room to a hospital for treatment of numerous bruises and cuts.

Although one of Brooks' arms had been amputated at the elbow, he had gained a reputation for skillfulness as an automobile driver.

IN MEMORIAM.

In the death of Dr. K. W. Rowe, we realize that Kerens and the surrounding community has lost a worthy citizen, a valuable physician and a good man. We do not decry the passing of a friend so much, as that is part of nature's plan, but when a man is rendering a great service to suffering humanity, going at all hours of the day and at night, yet always greeting his friends and acquaintances with a cheerful word, it is indeed hard to see them go.

Dr. Rowe was honest and devoid of deceit almost to the point of abruptness. He was a pioneer physician of this community, having been a general practitioner for years. In this day of specializing it is hard for the younger generation to realize just what privations the family physician underwent in the old horse and buggy days. He rode horseback or in a buggy the heat, cold and rain, in the dead hours of the night for many weary miles and many times receiving no remuneration for his labor.

The family physician's place is hard to fill. He knows the sorrows and joys of the family—he is their confidant. He speaks a consoling word to them in their hour of sorrow and oftentimes has sat alone through the long hours of the night, administering to a dying patient. Thus we see that Dr. Rowe has filled a place and performed a service in this town and community that will stand emblazoned upon the memory of those who knew and loved him for many, many year, to come. ADMITTED SLAYER OF TWENTY-TWO IS HANGED ON FRIDAY

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Carl Panzran, self declared slayer of twenty-two persons, was hanged at the federal prison early today for the murder of R. G. Warnke, civilian laundry foreman at the penitentiary where Panzran was serving a sentence for burglary imposed by a District of Columbia court.

President Hoover last night denied a plea for clemency.

The slayer was pronounced dead at 6:19 a. m.

Jeering the crowd as he walked to the gallows Panzran noted two chaplains present. He asked the warden that they be removed. The chaplains left, in accordance with his will.

Panzran, serving his sixth prison sentence, struck down the laundry foreman with a heavy iron bar June 19, 1929, in a frenzy of rage.

The hanging was the first legal execution in Kansas since 1870, with the exception of that of a federal prisoner at Wichita in 1888. The Kansas law provides capital puishment only for treason. Panzran, however, was prosecuted under federal statutes, his crime having been committed on federal property.

Before his trial for murder at Topeka, Kas., the prisoner wrote a letter to the trial judge demanding justice which he described as "that I be found guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced to die."

Panzran was pronounced sane by a sanity board before which he boasted of committing twenty-two murders.

OLD MEN INMATES OF COUNTY FARM AIR GRIEVANCES

SUPERINTENDENT WHITE REQUESTS COURT TO SET POLICY FOR CASE

Airing an "insurrection" among the old men of the county farm toward Superintendet C. E. White was one of the features of the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Navarro county commissioners' court. Three of the old men at the farm appeared before the commissioners. One's grievance was that he had to "tote" corn from a nearby field for the nogs, and that he was not physically able. Another complained that the management would not issue chewing tobacco and snuff at the same time. The other said he had been treated all right and had no complaint to make.

Superintendent White stated that the old men had apparently organized and refused o do any chores about the place, even refusing to shell peas for their meals. He described one of the men as the ring leader, and he asked the court what was he to expect of the old men, if anything. Nothing definite was stated to the superintendent by the court, but a definite policy was expected to be determined by the court when it lunched at the farm. Superintendent White asked that he be given a policy to handle the situation. The superintendent said that the old men would refuse to do anything, in a number of instances, and would give him a "bawling out" if he said anything to them.

Representatives of the Chapman farm in Precinct 2 appeared before the court and asked that the county give Mr. Chapman $750 on the cost of a concrete bridge costing in excess of $2,200, which was constructed two years ago. It was pointed out that Chapman has constructed five concrete bridges on public roads within his farm and has purchased right of ways and graded five miles. It was stated that $6,500 had been expended on the county roads inside of the Chapman farm.

Commissioner Guynes stated that he would be willing to pay for a portion of the bride, but not the amount indicated.

Monthly claims were allowed except as noted on the claim docket.

Tax adjustments and road matters also occupied a portion of the morning session.

FRENCH FLYERS IN WASHINGTON FOR STATE LUNCHEON

PLACE WREATH ON TOMB OF UNKNOWN SOLDIER; OTHER GUESTS ARRIVE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—President Hoover expressed today to Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte the feeling of the United States that their Paris to New York flight returned the visit made to France by Charles A. Lindbergh.

At the White House before the state luncheon he gave in their honor, the President recalled "the thirty hours and more of intense emotion that gripped us while our own Colonel Lindbergh was winging his way to Paris."

"Today, therefore," he said, "every American knows exactly what pride and happiness possesses every French heart, at the knowledge that these two gallant sons of France stand safely on our soil."

The achievements of Coste and Bellonte and Lindbergh were linked by Mr. Hoover with those of two of America's other famous airmen, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and Captain "Eddie" Rickenbacker, world war ace. All were his guests at the luncheon.

Earlier the French fliers had honored the tomb of the unknown soldier at Arlington with a wreath. They also had paid their respects to members of the cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—A quiet moment of reverence was spent at the tomb of the unknown soldier today by Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte before the luncheon at the White House honoring their westward crossing of the Atlantic.

Their wreath of the tribute was laid at Arlington while an army bugler sounded taps. The army band had played the Marseillaise while the airmen walked through the memorial amphitheatre to the tomb. They saw the dome of the capitol and the Washington monument through the mist in the distance.

Coste and Bellonte appeared to be greatly refreshed by a restful night at the French embassy. The trips to Arlington and various government departments were made in automobiles which travelled at such a pace that the foreign visitors were seldom recognized.

Charles A. Lindberg landed at Bolling field to attend President Hoover's luncheon. Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and Captain Eddie Rickerbacker, world war ace, were on the guest list.

Lowman Replies to Published Charges Maurice Campbell

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Charges made by Maurice Campbell, former prohibition administrator for the eastern New York district, in the first of a series of articles concerning dry enforcement, provoked a rejoinder today from Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury.

Campbell said Lowman had ordered him to relax brewery supervision in New York City during the 1928 campaign.

"I have read chapter one," said Lowman's formal statement. "And I Would judge that the story is the greatest romance of the century.

"Major Campbell was a horse doctor in the army. The horses died.

"He was a moving picture magnate. The company went bankrupt.

"As prohibition administrator he failed to dry up New York. He had a free hand.

"As an author, his imagination beats that of Dante. I have nothing further to say now."

FORT WORTH MAN BEATEN AND BODY PUT ON RAILROAD

NARROWLY ESCAPED DEATH FROM SWITCH-ENGINE; ATTACKERS UNKNOWN

FORT WORTH, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Officers continued their search today for two men who beat W. B. Warner, 36, into unconsciousness, bound his hands and feet and placed his body on the Cotton Belt railway track north of Ft. Worth, Saturday night. He missed death by only a few seconds when his body rolled from the track as a switch engine was approaching.

Warner told investigators he was forced to get into an automobile on a downtown street by two men one of whom displayed a pistol. He said he was asked by the men if he was going to contest his wife's divorce suit, filed Tuesday, and when he replied that he would, one of the men struck him. He said he did not know the names of his assailants.

When he was found unconscious beside the railroad track, early Sunday, he was taken to a hospital, where he was treated for his bruises and two broken ribs.

DEMOCRACY.

During the World war the United States and even the world at large heard a great deal of democracy and its salvation. In fact as the war progressed it was accepted as the struggle to the death between democracy and monarchy.

That this was so is not surprising since the people of the United States and the other republics of the world have ever preferred to identify their countries as democracies. It will be surprising to many however to learn that they have been laboring under a mistaken identity.

Political science defines a pure democracy as direct government by the people and a republic as government by the people through their chosen representatives. In a true democracy there would be no president, congress, legislature, parliament or other such legislative bodies as exist under the republican form of government.

The seventh-grade history teacher used to tell her class how Switzerland was a real democracy where all the people met at certain times, enacted their own laws, made their own treaties with other countries, levied taxes upon themselves and decided how these taxes should be be spent. But Switzerland now is governed by a government very much like that of the United States. Representatives are elected for a national assembly on the ratio of one to every 20,000 population.

The Swiss probably approach a pure democracy nearer than the United States does, for in Switzerland they have adopted the initiative and referendum. By the initiative the people directly make laws and submit them to the assembly for ratification. By the referendum the people act upon laws made by the assembly and may veto them if they desire to do so.

If the United States elected representatives to congress on the same ratio to the population as prevails in Switzerland, instead of a house of representatives numbering 435, we would elect more than 5,000 representatives to go to congress. The state of Pennsylvania which now sends 36 representatives to congress would send on the Swiss ratio of one to every 20,000, as many as now constitute the whole congress.

When the fathers charted the governmental course in the days of the revolution they decided that one representative should be sent to congress for every 30,000 population. That was before the days of the immigrant rush. The proportion has been increased ever since then, until now a representative is elected for every 211,877 population.

VIEWPOINTS.

Before prohibition a heavy drinker was one who drank more than another. A spendthrift is he who owns a higher priced automobile than you do or whose wife wears a more expensive fur coat than your wife wears. Bad children are those of the neighborhood who are just as mischievous but no more so than your model progeny. And so ad infinitum could be extended the list of examples of the tricks personal prejudices play upon opinions, both public and personal.

What seems right to one may be wrong in the eyes of another. People base their opinions in all things on personal experience, environment, circumstances and position. A man with a walking income is just as honest in his opinion that a $500 automobile is an extravagance as the owner of the $500 car in his opinion that a $5000 car is a waste of money. The same holds true of houses, jewelry, fur coats and theatre seats.

The national characteristics of the American people are such that a republican form of government, which approaches the democratic, is essential to their happiness and peace of mind. Yet in Italy a dictator is not only tolerated but quite generally accepted as a national boon and in Russia a dictatorship by the proletariat gains in power daily. Every nation is confident that its form of government is the best and should be embraced by all other countries. Many times in history have religious beliefs been forced by their zealous devotees upon others of a different worship for the "good of others."

It has been said that "convictions are prison walls we erect around ourselves." They might also be compared with tyrants.

JUST FOLKS

A TOWN CHARACTER.

He would not hurry as we said,
But chose to take his time instead
And days went bv. The hingeless door
Bothered and fretted as before,
And still our nerves were overstrained
Because a broken shelf remained.

Our city haste he would not share
Nor rush our trifles to repair.
"'Tis very like him," someone said.
"He soundly sleeps at night in bed,
Wants little; likes to take his ease
And cares not whom he may displease.

"Oh, many a day I've gone to see
If he would do some work for me
And found, because the wind was right
His little shop door fastened tight,
And on it left a sign to say
That he'd gone fishing for the day."

We think him queer because he asks
No fortune fro mhis daily tasks
And with enough, can shut his door
On those of us who offer more,
But sometimes rushed from that to this
But sometimes rushed from that to this
I envy him that life of his.

GANG WARS.

The gang wars that are troubling the larger American cities are only of indirect interest to the nation at large. The public is more concerned with their connection with the crime wave than with the casualties as long as they do not include innocent bystanders. There is no public mourning when the gangsters slay each other.

The first reaction to these sordid and sensational crimes is that the crooks are killing each other and when theives fall out honest men get their dues. There is something comforting in these words, until the realization comes that killings may lead to gang rule rather than government by law.

The manner in which the gangs work is a challenge to the police and to civilization itself. Everybody admits that the authorities are handicapped in their efforts to track down the guilty persons. The gangs are better organized than the police, it seems, and the noose and chair seem to hold no horrors for the killers. The courts cannot imprison a man without good evidence of guilt, and in most instances the police have shown an inability to collect any substantial evidence in gang killings.

Should gang warfare become widespread it will present a national problem with as many difficult angles as the crime wave and quite as menacing to the public welfare and safety.

Being a leader in China seems to consist in taking what money may be offered and then saying: "Sic 'em."

There are a great many lies told simply because the truth often sounds like a poor excuse.

CAN THIS BE DONE

Clothing for civilized woman is just about the same the world over. A traveler journeying rapidly from Hongkong to Budapest, thence to Paris, New York, San Francisco and Melbourne, would find no more change in feminine styles than those which had occurred during the period of his trip. In small towns and large, at home and abroad, fashions for women are uniform except in those isolated lands where a national garb has survived.

Some credit, or blame, for this state of affairs must go to the movies. Simultaneous and universal distribution of films gives every girl an equal chance to copy the beautiful clothes-horse heroine.

One exception to this rule must be allowed if the observations of an Indianapolis teacher hold true. She is authority for the statement that the feminine population of rural Indiana is holding out against utter uniformity of dress; that farm girls dress better, with more distinction, than city girls, and that they do it with less money.

Can it be that Indiana dairy maids have escaped the insidious influences of the films? Or are they more dependent on their own resources, more individualistic? And will city girls agree with this verdict of the Indianapolis teacher.

Anyway the comparison has whetted the public's curiosity. Does the superiority of farmer girls extend to other things? Do they also cook better, keep house better, manage husbands and children better?

CARICATURING TYPES.

The "comic alien" of the stage is remembered by this generation but is seen no longer. Closed is the day of this form of theatrical caricature. No more is seen the orange - haired Irishman, with a face like an Airdale, offering beer to an excessively French, short-skirted, high-heeled soubrette who demands champagne in scornful tones.

Gone from the stage is the haw - haw Englishman with his monocle, mustache and exaggerated manner of speech. Laugh provokers of the modern stage are not German jesters in sky-blue pantaloons, Italian organ grinders, or Chinese laundrymen, Swiss bell - ringers, Spanish bull-fighters or Scotch highlanders.

Burlesque on native types have supplanted the comic alien on the American stage. The comedians and comediennes of the present-day stage are caricatures of American types. Travelers report that in London, Paris, and Berlin an actor, bespectacled, in American attire, chewing gum and taking long strides about the stage, will rock the house from pit to gallery before even one nasal word escapes him.

There is only one explanation for this anomalous situation and that is that the American people discovered the foreign types before the mirth-provoking possibilities of the native types dawned upon them. Just another illustration for the theme of the famous "Acres of Diamonds" address of the late Dr. Russell Conwell.

NO DANGER IN OIL SHORTAGE.

For many years estimating the amount of available petroleum has been a favorite diversion of statisticians. However, every estimate has been proven wrong in the light of later discoveries.

Now it is said that the discovery of new fields and of deeper sands in old fields make it necessary to again revise our ideas regarding the supply of oil we have in underground storage. There is no danger of a shortage, and those who forecast depletion of our supply by 1930 or 1935 will have to guess again.

This is encouraging news. Oil is vital, not only to industrial and social progress, but to our existence. And the United States of tomorrow will unquestionably find new uses for great quantities of petroleum products we know nothing of today.

But, no matter how large our resources may be, there is no excuse for wasting them. Whether we have fifty billion barrels of oil or five, the supply is definitely limited. It cannot be replaced. It must be used sanely and economically.

An invaluable national resource must be conserved.

Babe Follows Its Mother in Death

Richard Lankford, Jr., aged two days, died about 5:30 Thursday afternoon and was buried at 11 o'clock Friday morning by the side of his mother, who died Wednesday, in Oakwood cemetery. Rev. L. K. Carraway conducted the service.

The funeral was held from the Corley-McMahon Funeral Home.

CODES

In a natural state, as men of sense agree, the natural thing is the normal thing. But when men outgrew jungle ethics and invented compassion and unselfishness, morality became a much nobler thing. It became and remains largely a matter of having regard for the other fellow.

Suicide is unmoral in the eyes of this age, though it has not always been so. Yet today when a man deliberately sacrifices his life to save others, which is suicide, society's verdict is that he has done a noble deed. The effect in both cases is the same: the man is dead. But in one case his action seemed ignoble because he thought only of himself, and in the other it seemed noble because he thought only of others.

Robin Hood was a thief, and thieving is unmoral. Yet that care-free villian is the object of undying hero worship because he gave to the poor what he stole from the rich.

When a big country took from a weaker nation an isthmus as a site for a canal, the obvious immorality of the act was forgiven because of the good to many that resulted.

Society's definition of the moral thing is that which seems to contribute to its own security and well-being. Which, despite the invention of unselfishness and compassion, is a definition not far removed from the moral code of the jungle.

PIONEER NAVARRO COUNTY WOMAN WAS BURIED ON FRIDAY

Funeral services were held from the home Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock with interment in the Zion's Rest cemetery. Rev. Lawrence Shivers of Wortham conducted the services.

The deceased was a lifelong resident of Navarro county. She is survived by five sons: John Henry Howard of Waco, Willie Howard of Purdon, Jake, Robert and James Arthur Collins of Corsicana; two daughters, Mrs. S. D. Dillard of Dallas, and Mrs. J. R. Williams of Corsicana.

The funeral was directed by the Corley-McMahon Funeral Home.

Slow Progress is Reported on Test North of Corsicana

Slow progress was reported on the O. W. Killiam No. 1 Wilson north of Corsicana Thursday afternoon as the rockbit ground away steadily at about 3073 feet in the Edwards lime. Drillers are watching the formation closely, examining cuttings every few feet.

A four foot gumbo break was encountered Wednesday, but the remainder of the time has been occupied with penetrating the lime since driling was resumed Tuesday noon after a shutdown for repairs.

FRENCHMEN LEAVE DALLAS FRIDAY FOR HOP TO LOUISVILLE

LATE START FOR OVERNIGHT STAY IN KENTUCKY; VISIT HOOVER SATURDAY

LOVE FIELD, DALLAS, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The Question Mark bearing Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte, fresh from Paris, took to the air again at 12:30 p. m., Central Standard Time today for a jaunt to Louisville, Ky., en route back to New York, whence it came yesterday without stop in 11 hours, 25 minutes and 15 seconds.

The distance from Dallas to Louisville was given as 740 miles by airport officials who calculated the flyers would make it in five hours and 42 minutes based on yesterday's pace.

The plane carrying Rene Racover, American business manager of the flyers, followed the Question Mark out a minute later.

Coste and Bellonte worked with the ship that brought them fame and established new aviation records for more than two hours after they reached the field. Although they had set their departure at 8 a. m., they slept late and did not reach the field until more than two hours after the time set for the start.

The ground crew had some trouble turning the big propeller after 100 gallons of gasoline had been pumped into the tanks, but after the motor warmed up and the ascent was undertaken she seemed to be functioning perfectly.

The plane was taxied to the northeastern part of the field and the take-off was in the face of the wind blowing from the southwest.

The Frenchmen circled the field once, headed towards the city of Dallas, turned abruptly to the north and hustled through a great thunder cloud that resembled a great mountain of snow, headed in a bee-line for Louisville, where the night will be spent and the trip continued to New York tomorrow.

Purely Business.

Except for a few poses for newspaper cameramen and moving shots the premier aviators of France were all business today when they came back to the field where yesterday a great throng literally swept them from their feet as they alighted after making the first non-stop flight between New York and Dallas.

The red Sesquiplane had not been inspected since it landed yesterday and was hustled away from the crowd to safety in a hangar, and when the fliers arrived this morning they immediately set about overseeing the servicing and conditioning.

Bellonte Oversees Work.

Bellonte saw to most of the work that was necessary, while Coste sat in his cockpit, first drinking several glasses of iced ginger ale leisurely and then good-naturedly and tirelessly autographed cards for men, women and children who clamored to the side of the plane to ask the favor.

Well wishers began arriving on the field before the sun peeped over the eastern horizon and waited until the long-delayed departure beneath a blistering Texas sun that caused the heroes to perspire freely as they prepared to leave Texas behind.

Through Racover, Coste said the Question Mark would loaf on its flight to Louisville.

"We are in no hurry this time and want to take a good look," he said.

Propeller Difficult to Turn.

Difficulty was experienced in turning the propeller over and it was indicated the start might be delayed for an indefinite period.

Coste had put his silk muffler around his neck and donned his helmet in the forward cockpit. Bellonte was directing the ground crew in its effort to start the motor.

The big red plane with a white "?" as its insignia, needed little attention for the latest flight. Guards at the hanger said it had not been touched by mechanics since it hit the field.

Southern Air Transport officials sent a call for more policemen as the crowd continued to grow, hampering somewhat movement of passenger planes and other commercial ships that use this port.

The United States weather bureau reported the proposed route to Louisville partly cloudy as far as Memphis, Tenn., with surface winds from the east and northeast in Arkansas and Western Tenenssee.

Will Tour United States.

Shortly after arrival here, Rene Racover, business manager for the fliers, announced Capt. Coste and Bellonte would shortly tour the United States over the same route followed by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh on his historic good-will flight. The flight, it was said, would be a good-will gesture from the people of France to the people of the United States, and would occupy about 40 days. It was not stated when it would begin.

As Capt. Coste shut off the ignition upon arrival late yesterday and raised himself to the back of the seat, peering out over the throngs with tired eyes, there was a rush from the sidelines and police, guardsmen, newspapermen and photographers and spectators, including many women, were mixed in a milling, frantic mass of humanity. There were cheers roared out from thousands of throats, cheers of "Hooray for Coste and Bellonte," the shrieking of automobile horns and the loud, excited shouts by policemen and National Guard officers.

Throng Pushed Forward.

Hundreds pressed forward, laughing, joyfully anxious to welcome the famous airmen, and they were met by the struggling police and Guardsmen. Before the guns of the Guardsmen, held in two hands and rammed against men and women, and the waving billies of the police, who hurled some persons to the ground, the throngs retreated, but the crush of other thousands pushed them forward again. National Guard officers ordered several cavalrymen to ride their horses into the crowd, and when the horses reared they were slapped on the haunches to make them spring forward. A small boy was knocked from his feet and dragged up again by spectators near him. Men and women were stepped upon by horses and hurled aside by the frightened animals. Several photographers were knocked down and lost their shots, and one was badly beaten. Newspapermen were helpless in the confusion.

Police Chief Claude Trammel, informed of accusations that photographers had been attacked and others roughly handled, said he had issued no orders affecting photographers and he would deal with any policeman whose name was given him. The photographers were unable to name the men who attacked them.

More Fighting.

Meanwhile, Coste and Bellonte alighted and were surrounded by police and Guardsmen, who forced a lane through the throngs 200 feet to the administration building, where a reception committee awaited them. There was more fighting at the doors as hundreds tried to force their way inside to attend the ceremonies, and newspapermen and photographers obtained entrance only with the greatest difficulty. The fliers were whisked upstairs, and guards at all doors and on the stairways, kept the spectators back. Before a microphone, Coste and Bellonte made short talks, expressing appreciation for the welcome accorded them. They spoke in French, and a short translation was given.

Then at the head of a line of automobiles, the fliers were driven to the business section, seven miles distant, through banks of cheering spectators. Coste and Bellonte sat on the folded top of a touring car and waved and grinned. There were those who said Colonel Lindbergh did not receive a warmer welcome in Dallas when he came to the city on his good-will tour. Even after the fliers were in the hotel, in the personal suite of Col. Easterwood, the crowds were not satisfied, but milled excitedly about the lobby.

Says His County In Good Condition

T. B. LEWIS
County Agent Limestone County

Kerens School Will Open September 15

KERENS, Sept. 5.—(Spl.)—The Kerens public schools will open on the 15th of this month with a corps of 27 teachers, under the management of Supt. J. J. Hendricks. Two new common school districts were added to Kerens Independent this year, the Oak Grove district and the Goodnight district.

The colored schools are located 1 1-2 miles south of Kerens, being the county training school for negro children.

Mr. Hendricks said he was looking forward to a successful year and the largest enrollment Kerens has ever had.

LIMESTONE COUNTY CONDITION BELOW NORMAL THIS YEAR

MEXIA, Sept. 5.—(Spl)).—Limestone county will face the winter in a slightly below normal condition, but yet in much better condition than the majority of counties of Texas, in the opinion of T. B. Lewis, county agent. While cotton acreage has been decreased some, and the crop is about 50 per cent of normal, feed crops have been good, and there was a good corn crop. Livestock has proven profitable, and farmers entering the dairy business with the opening of markets for whole milk are finding a paying side line.

Diversification and terracing, two projects advocated so strongly by the A. & M. College extension service, have proven their value this year. Grain, sorghums, almost unknown a few years ago, are making good crops. Farmers are cutting their row stuff, lettin git dry and then grinding stalk and all in feed mills, making all of it available for cow feed.

The heavy spring rains were retained by the terraces and drouth damage was minimized by them, Mr. Lewis points out.

During the fall Mr. Lewis will spend most of his time encouraging farmers to plant fall grains such as barley, wheat and oats for cover crops. Plowing for fall planting has already started.

Farmers of this section of Texas are not suffering from the drouth but from the low price of cotton, Lewis points out. Bankers are cooperating in splendid fashion and most farmers will be able to get along. Gardens were good in the spring, and many housewives canned provisions for the winter. Fall gardens are being planted.

Recent rains have improved the pastures, which are now in good condition. The whole milk production, which fell off sharply in August, is increasing now. Mr. Lewis says the Borden Company at Waco has informed him that the Groesbeck truck line showed the fastest increase in its load of whole milk daily of any serving that plant.

The county agent points out that the heifer crop is large, and because there is plenty of feedstuffs and good pastures, most of them will be retained on the farms to produce whole milk for the markets recently provided.

OUTWITTING YOUR NERVES

The New Psychology In Action

by Josephine A. Jackson, M.D.

The Famous Writer and Authority on Nerves

THE AGE OF INITATION

Reply to Readers

Mrs. Y. writes: Will you please write in the near future regarding the age of boys and girls that should know the truth about birth, sex, etcetera I have talked to my son who seems to be developing very quickly. He will be 13 in March. Have I done right?

Answer: Your mother wit has prompted you in the rght direction. Nature is fitting up your boy with full vital equipment, and while she does so is making over the whole plant. Everything is new and strange to the boy. He does not know his own voice; he is shooting up in stature, he has moods and yearnings that puzzle him. Very soon there will come dreams that will lend terror, if they have not been anticipated by simple explanation. He begins to wake up more fully to significant incidents in family life; to put two and two together as it were, and come to his own conclusions. Happy for the boy if these conclusions lend beauty and dignity to the relationship that has placed children in the home and made people into parents.

Now, good mother, when the very nature within the boy prompts the question, why should mere parents withhold the simple, frank, straight-forward answer? Are we wiser than Nature? Does the God of nature plant anything amiss in these beloved children of ours?

Your puzzlement is due to the social taboo on any discussion of sex. There is a veil of secrecy imposed by society, and hanging in thick folds between youth and the adult world. Is there not even less sense in such a situation than in the Moslem custom of veiling its women? Society usually implies shame.

It does really embarrass you to reveal the secrets of sex to your child. Should this be so, or is it merely the unfortunate hangover from your own childhood complexes, made under the shadow of the same veil of secrecy?

Long before puberty—which ic the beginning of maturity—and to a considerable degree before school age, the child has obtained all sorts of garbled and indecent sex enlightenment. He knows it all, but knows it wrong. Why not get his ear first, and forestall any vile and mistaken implications There is nothing in nature that shocks a child if he has not first been given the hint that there is something shameful about it. There is nothing that is wholesome and natural which your child may not know when his interest wakes up of its own accord and prompts the question. As soon as the children ask questions they should be answered in a general way, simply and directly and without embarrassment.

"There's the rub," I hear you say. So get rid of your own wrong complexes first. Find yourself first, and then you will be a really helpful parent, as the age of initiation brings its problems to you and to your children las had said he would insist upon the platform containing a plank advocating submission of the proposed consitutional amendment that would make it possible to issue statewide highway bonds, while the tenor of the Sterling forces was to touch lightly on that proposition which caused a division of sentimnet during the gubernatorial campaign.

WOODWARD NAMED KEYNOTER OF STATE DEMOCRATIC MEET

General Highway Plank.

It was believed that Mr. Sterling would want a general plank with reference to a highway policy—simply stating that users of the highways should pay the cost of their construction. Since that is somewhat the case now, in that the four cent gasoline tax is producing a big portion of the money that is going into the highways, and inasmuch as the gasoline tax would be pledged to retire state highway bonds should they ever be issued, it was the consensus this generalization should meet the approval of both factions.

Whether Senator Love would press his demand for a clear cut highway bond issue expression after all advisors had huddled over the proposition was uncertain.

It was believed that there would not be any oher controversial matters to bring about a division of any kind and that the builders of the platform, with Mr. Sterling directing the work, would wield their hammers and saws in perfect unison.

General Wolters smiling and busy, spoke for Mr. Sterling all during the meeting. The nominee himself had no word to say and sat quietly as a spectator.

One of the general's moves was to call for the appointment of assistant secretaries, "real workers,' he styled them. Three, W. E. George of Wichita Falls, C. C. Renfro of Dallas, and Charlotte Graves of Galveston, were named immediately and it was planned to appoint others if it were found they were needed.

Few Credenials Received.

It developed that more than half the counties in the state had sent in no delegation credentials and a sub-committee of five was appointed to pass on late arrival credentials, either held directly or by proxies. The executive committee which recessed shortly after 11 a. m., will meet again at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

It was decided to have the main convention begin at 11 o'clock instead of 10.

While the committeemen were dispatching routine business the Texas Woman's Democratic Association was meeting in a nearby room, putting in motion machinery by which it hopes to help influence the committee to write the strongest prohibition plany ever had. Mrs. Larry Mills of Dallas, long a dry worker, is president.

The committees' official runoff vote tabulation gave Sterling 473,362 and Mrs. Miriam Ferguson 384,402, a majority of 88,960 for Sterling.

Floor leaders for the convention were named as follows: Thomas H. Ball, Houston, Charles I. Francis of Wichita Falls, Alvin Moody of Houston, Ben Stone of Fort Worth, Oscar Dancy of Brownsville, and A. P. Johnson of Carizozo Springs.

Cone Johnson of Tyler, associated on the highway commission with Mr. Sterling for the past four years and one of Texas' best known and most eloquent orators of the old school, was to make the nominating speech. Mrs. Alex Adams of San Antonio was selected to second it.

Convention Sidelights.

GALVESTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—George Moffett of Chillicothe and W. B. Chauncy of Vernon, delegates to the state Democratic convention, are concerned about getting from the assembled party leaders some kind of an expression that might lead to relief action for West Texas' drouth conditions.

"The people of Texas generally do not realize the urgency of the situation," Moffett said. "Of course, the suffering is not general, but there are spots where people need relief as badly as hav come of our citizens woh were victims of national disasters."

Ben L. Cox of Abilene voiced the same sentiment expressed by Moffett.

"Texans need to know of the stringent times in spots of our usually prosprous seciom of the state," Cox said.

Postoffice officials state that special delivery mail has been tampered with since last April and that various sums have been reported missing.

DARING RUNNING BY LEWIS NINTH DECIDED CONTEST

In one of the best games of the season, the Brownsboro Independents eked out a 2-1 victory over the Magnolia Oilers at Municipal Park Sunday afternoon when Lewis, second-sacker of the visitors, dashed home in one of the most daring and spectacular plays of the afternoon. Both clubs had scored one run in the opening frame, but thereafter, Moss of the visitors and Biggers of the locals had engaged in a great pitcher's duel, both coming out of dangerous positions by real pitching and by excellent support.

Biggers whiffed ten batters during the game, but was touched for eight hits. Moss fanned only four, but was effective in the pinches and exhibited a fine asortment of curves, etc. for the batters.

The first two batters to face Biggers in the first half of the ninth inning were outs, but Lewis singled to center. Roberts, third-soacker, singled sharply to right-field. Ballew fielded the ball while Lewis dashed to third base. When Ballew threw the ball to the infield, Lewis dashed for the home plate and was safe on a close play in what later proved the winning of the game.

Fifth Ining Threat.

Magnolia threatened to break the deadlock in the fifth inning. The first batter was out. Biggers hit a high ball to Husler who dropped the pellet. Ballew beat out an infield hit down third base line. Biggers went to third base on a passed ball and Ballew later pilferred second. Jimmy Andrews, formerly star hurler with the Corsicana and other class D clubs, was out, bunting on the third strike on attempted squeeze play, and then Moss fanned Sands to end the inning. The local club did not threaten during the remainder of the game.

V. Carter of the visitors made a sensational catch of the line drive hit into the left field by Harper in the seventh inning.

Brownsboro executed two double-plays during the first two to cut down rallies.

A fairly god crowd was on hand to cheer the two clubs, a number of fans from the Brownsboro vicinity being present.

Harvey Ballew Will Coach Edinburg Team During This Season

Harvey Ballew, outfielder with the San Antonio Indians of the Texas League, left San Antonio Monday after the team was disbanded Sunday, for Edinburg, Texas, where he will teach in the Edinburg high school and coach football, according to information received here.

Ballew is a product of Emmett, Navarro county, and was a star athlete at Southwestern University, Georgetown. He later broke into professional baseball with the Terrell club in the Texas Association. During last spring, Ballew had a trial with the New York Giants.

The outfielder has enjoyed a good season and may get another chance in higher company, belting the ball at a clip about .330 for the season. He will be remembered as the football coach of Dawson high school last fall, and also as an official in a number of basketball games in this vicinity during the winter months.

HUMBLE OILERS DEFEAT ALL-STARS MILDRED THURSDAY

With Lefty Stansel in the box, letting his opponents down with only five scattered hits, and striknig out seven men, the Humble Oilers rode over the All-Star team Thursday afternoon on the Humble diamond, and came out on the big end of a 11-2 score. Hitting honors of the day went to Muncy, Oilers' right fielder, who got four hits in as many times at bat, one of which was a double.

Stansel also starred at the plate with three safe hits, while Turner supplied the only home run of the whole game, and Tyner, with three walks and two hits, had a good day. Bobbitt, first baseman for the All-Stars, secured the only extra base hit for the visitors, a triple to right field, while Banks, Seales, Newcomb and Jennings, secured singles.

The Oilers had a good day in the field.

Sunday the Oilers will play Jacksonville for the third meeting of these teams this year, in Neches. The Corsicana boys have won one game and tied another with the Jacksonville nine.

URGE FARMERS TO DESTROY STALKS AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

COUNTY AGENT DECLARES COTTON PESTS CAN BE ELIMINATED

More dollars can be made from cotton acres if entire communities act together this fall in destroying cotton stalks as soon as possible after picking is compete, Calvin Pigg, county agent, points out, in urging farmers to take part in a state-wide protective move to reduce boll weevil damage. The boll weevil, he explains, feeds only on green cotton of which it must have a plentiful supply before it is forced into the inactive winter stage about the time of the first killing frosts. To attack now, when conditions for a general clean-up are ideal, will effectively reduce next season's losses if community-wide, or better, county-wide co-operation of farmers is obtained, so A. and M. College entomologists assert.

"The present low price of cotton should be an incentive to induce farmers to a general clean-up in order to cut next season's production costs," the county agent declares. "A selection of the more productive acres on the farm for growing cotton in 1931, combined with a general boll weevil clean-up, good seed, and good cultivation, is a good recipe for low production costs and substantial profits. This is based on experimental results and experiences of cotton demonstrations in this and many other Texas counties."

In suggesting community action to the farmers of this county, Mr. Pigg calls attention to the fact that this simple clean-up campaign does not require much additional labor, and that it is in line with good farm practice anyway. Land cleaned of cotton stalks by shallow plowing is soon ready for a paying winter cover or pasture crop such as barley, oats, wheat, or rye.

Cards giving brief and practical pointers on the why and how of a boll weevil clean-up have been prepared by the Extension Service and may be had for the asking at the county agent's office.

FIFTY CANDIDATES REPORT AT INITIAL WORKOUT OF SEASON

BRAWN IS NOTICEABLE FEATURE OF 1930 TIGER FOOTBALL SQUAD

With fifty candidates reporting for the first workout Friday afternoon and a number of recruits to the squad expected Saturday and Monday, the Corsicana High School Tigers have started their training for the 1930 grid season in District Four under the suprevision of Coaches John A. Pierce and Ted Jeffries.

About 50 boys were in uniform when the first practice was held at Municipal ball park Friday afternoon, and after a very brief punting and passing drill, the candidates were given a short session in fundamentals of blocking, and tackling, and then the Tiger mentors dished out three basic plays with orders to "run 'em." The session lasted until full dark.

Coach Pierce stated Friday after practice that he expected about 60 men in uniform by Monday, and the squad would probably be increased to 100 when school opened. Several veteran members of the squad are still working and wil not report until school starts, but will be in good condition and ready for the grind, according to information sent to the Tiger coaches.

Because of the necessity of rounding into shape rapidly, Coach Pierce will continue to dish out plays at frequent intervals until the Tigers have a sufficient assortment for their early games, and in order to prevent being forced to discard their efforts, the Tiger coaches have instructed the managers to keep the practice fields clear of spectators at all times. Corsicana grid fans are asked to co-operate with the mentors and refrain from visiting the workouts at present.

Fans to Be Invited.

The coaches announced that as soon as the rough edges could be rounded off the squad, regular dates would be announced at which the fans would be invited to watch the Tigers run their paces in an informal session.

Brawn is the first noticeable feature of the 1930 Tiger squad, and it will be possible for the mentors to place a regular line in the field that will outaverage a majority of the lines in the Southwestern conference, with several of the men exceptionally fast.

Many of the veterans from the 1929 squad reported considerably heavier and better matured than they were last season, and there appears to be a wealth of shifty backs, who can be prepared to play almost any kimd of football that the season will demand. If the heavy line can be whipped into shape to function as it should, and supply a screen for the smaller backs the Tigers should have a fast, deceptive machine that will go far in the district race.

"No coasting" is the field motto of the Tigers for 1930, and is interpreted to mean that every man will be hustling every minute he is on the field for practice or for playing. The boys snapped into their workout Friday afternoon in the best fashion that they have shown in several years, seemingly unmindful of a hot September sun and the uncomfortableness of unfamiliar equipment.

Several Gaps in Machine.

Several gaps will have to be plugged in the Tiger machine, and the coaches have given no assurance that almost the entire machine will not be revamped to take advantage of the maximum power possible Every veteran and every newcomer was assured at the first practice that no man had his position cinched before the first game, and that his success depended upon his own efforts and willingness to work.

With a majority of the veterans reporting for the first workout, and sufficient material for all normal desires, Coaches Pierce and Jefferies told the squad Friday that it was "hard work" for the remainder of the season. The squad is expected to have the two plays handed out Friday running smoothly by the close of the Saturday practice session, and with a day of rest, a heavier load will be placed on the Tigers, beginning Monday.

For the remaining days before the opening of the regular school session, punters and receivers are expected to be in uniform at the practice field at 5 o'clock each afternoon for a preliminary workout before the remainder of the squad arrives about 5:30 for the regular drill.

Another noticeable fact about the 1930 Tigers is that the back field can be manned in such fashion that both right and left handed passers may be included in the same group, giving the Corsicana club an added advantage.

When the Tigers swung into action Friday, only one school in District Four will remain to start active training—and the Waco Tigers are scheduled to start work Monday with more than 100 candidates in action. Cleburne has been working for about three weeks, and has been scrimmaging for the past ten days as Howard Parker attempts to plug the gaps left in his 1930 machine.

Encouraging reports are being received from Hillsboro, where unusually bright prospects are reported; Waxahachie has been working for several days; Mexia, Ennis, Athens and a number of other teams in this section have been working for several days.
